Rules to be given first preference to ex-servicemen, to appointments in the State

12) In the matter of giving first preference to the Ex-Servicemen of the respective State Forces, while filling up Vacancies in the Local Boards & municipalities & other Depts the following points are for consideration

1) As per existing rules All Superior Services are being governed by the Rules of Recruitment and as such the unit offices appoint Candidates approved by the PSC and all other Superior Services Candidates are being appointed by the appointing authorities after taking into considerations such as, good record of previous Service, physical fitness and good character Etc

13) In this present proposal it is contemplated & suggested that first preference should be given to ex-service men that all vacancies may be intimated to the Employment Exchange at Bolpur, that the list of candidates recommended by the Employment Exchange may be adopted and that the other civilian candidates may be entertained in the absence of a recommended list from the Employment exchange

(4) 1) From this proposal it appears to the recognition of two independent recruitment bodies (one PSC & the other Employment Exchange)

2) The interests of other civilian candidates will be curtailed to a certain extent

3) The Employment Exchange may not classify & regularise the vacancies (as Sch or General) as per Rules of recruitment

4) General exemptions re. age, qualifications etc may have to be given to the ex-servicemen.

(5) In the Resolution of the Ad-hoc committee cited in the para 3, it is requested, that orders may issue on the similar lines issued by the G.O. of Madras (Flag 'X')

(6) The Madras G.O refers to certain posts only (not confined to the G.O) it is perhaps desirable to know what those posts are 2

17) Further in that Cl. 0 50 is Scaled as at A & B (vide flag K)

18) Accordingly the appointing authorities have to send reports, if necessary, with reasons, to the Employment Exchange at Kolhapur In order to help & to take quick decisions in this behalf the Employment Exchange may be requested to send the recommendations of Ex-Servicemen deputed by him & where suitable candidates are available indicating therein, the age qualifications community experience etc, to the Selection Committee

19) The Selection Committee may be empowered as a special case, to grant exemptions to such deserving cases, and to appoint them immediately without observing formal procedure to such of the Depts where they fit in after ascertaining over the phone or otherwise since the Selection Committee & the Employment Exchange & the Heads of Depts are at Kolhapur itself

20) These appointments may be made at once against either temporary or permanent vacancies subject to the confinement of rules of recruitment particularly in respect of classification & regularisation except the rules of appointments & promotion. Since the main object of the Ad hoc Committee is to give immediate relief by appointing ex-servicemen in some temporary posts or otherwise the question of exchanging & re-arranging the thus appointed candidates etc in the different depts of the State would be considered

21) The question of their confirmation & giving benefit of service may perhaps be taken up after 3 or 4 yrs common service rendered by these ex-service people either in the temporary or substantive & long standing vacancies, and that may be suitably dealt with on spl grounds by Govt in view of their past service in the Indian Army etc

22) If agreed, the Secty PSC will be requested requested to obtain the views of the PSC in the matter after taking into consideration all points for & against in the matter in the first instance

23) A further circular after the receipt of the views of the PSC

37) The Vacancies occurring among Local Boards the staff of local bodies can be classified as follows

(a) Ministerial posts which are usually filled up by the Unit Officer by posting candidates approved by PSC & assigned to his unit

(b) Posts which are advertised after classification by Unit Officer and are filled up by appointing one of the candidates from among those whose applns are forwarded by PSC

(c) Posts filled up locally from among available candidates

38) only posts in inferior Services come under (c) It is not clear if posts shown under (a) & (b) may be filled up by appointing ex-Servicemen & if so this requires a revisn of the rules of recruitment If, on the other hand, the idea is to confine the existing procedure, & only to give preference to ex-Servicemen subject to the condition stated in para 27, then the PSC will have to take needful action to give preference to ex Servicemen while assigning candidates to the several units The unit officers will have to be directed to give preference to ex-Servicemen who apply thro the PSC while filling
